Highlights of Vietnam for Muslim Tours

North of Vietnam

Hanoi

Hanoi is one of the most beguiling cities in Southeast Asia. It's slow-paced yet quick to charm, with a lovely landscape of lakes, shaded boulevards, verdant public parks and French-colonial architecture. Hanoi personifies the spirit of historic Vietnam in the temples, monuments and pockets of ancient culture along the narrow streets of the Old Quarter, yet perfectly reflects the rapid changes sweeping the country as Hanoi Yuppies sip cappuccinos in roadside cafes and compare cell phones. Hanoi is a destination that is sure to enchant you as it does most travelers.

Ha Long Bay

Ha Long Bay is one of the world's natural wonders, and is the most beautiful tourist destination in Vietnam. Ha Long Bay features more than one thousand awesome limestone karsts and islands of various sizes and shapes along the 120-km coastline of Bai Chay Beach. Its waters are host to a great diversity of ecosystems including offshore coral reefs, freshwater swamp forests, mangrove forests, small freshwater lakes, and sandy beaches. The folk tale has it that the dragons descended from heaven to help locals by spitting jewels and jade to the sea, forming a natural fortress against invaders; these precious stones are represented by the lush green outcrops. Several islands boast beautiful grottos and caves with contiguous chambers, hidden ponds and peculiar stone formations.

Hoa Lu – Tam Coc

Hoa Lu is the area that will surround you in the rich history and breathtaking scenery of Vietnam. The area is used to be the ancient capital of Vietnam since 10th century, here we will have chance to visit the two temple that dedicated to King Dinh and King Le, the scenery is really breath taking in the scenery.

Tam Coc means "three caves here you will have chance to explore magnificent caves by rowing boat and get up close to the region's spectacular karst country."

South of Vietnam

Ho Chi Minh City

Ho Chi Minh City, or Saigon, as the city is still frequently referred to, is Vietnam's largest city with a population in excess of 6 million. It is a fast-paced city full of contrasts as street vendors selling fruit and vegetables can be seen next to glitzy western-style bars and boutiques. Today Ho Chi Minh City is very much the heart of Vietnamese business and entrepreneurialism. Incomes here are typically twice that of Hanoi and the city's skyline is rapidly changing, reflecting the sharp influx of foreign trade within the last decade. And yet for all this modernity the city still retains its connections to the past, particularly in Cholon, Saigon's Chinatown where dozens of elegant temples and pagodas can be seen.

Cu Chi Tunnel

The Cu Chi Tunnels were pivotal to the Communist's victory over the Americans and the South Vietnamese Armies as they allowed the Viet Cong to control a large rural area around Saigon. Today the remaining tunnels have been widened to accommodate the larger western frame and have now become a major tourist attraction giving the visitor a unique experience of what underground life in the Anti-American War must have been like and a deep appreciation of the courage and ingenuity of the Vietnamese people.

Mekong Delta

The Mekong Delta covers an area of 67,000 square km in the southern most region of Vietnam and is often referred to as the rice bowl of Vietnam as it produces three harvests per year. The Mekong River begins its life in Tibet and travels 4,500km through six countries before eventually splitting into nine tributaries (Cuu Long in Vietnamese) and flowing into the East Sea. Because the plains are periodically flooded by the rising Mekong River traditional transportation is by boat along a vast network of canals. These canals are the very lifeblood of the Delta and her 15 million inhabitants. Everything from human cargo to tropical fruit travels along this complex. The most interesting places to visit in Mekong Delta including: My Tho, Vinh Long, Can Tho
